

As 2025 draws to a close, we want to extend our heartfelt thanks to everyone who has supported Boarding School Concern. Your commitment—whether through volunteering, donating, or simply spreading the word—has helped us continue our vital work supporting everybody affected by their time at boarding school.

This year has reinforced just how important it is to listen to the voices of those with lived experience of boarding school. We have provided confidential support and guidance to individuals seeking help, and continued to raise awareness of the emotional and psychological impact that boarding can have on children.

Every conversation and email has mattered. For many, simply being heard has been a powerful first step toward healing. Your courage helps others feel less alone and strengthens our collective call for change.

We also thank everyone who has given us feedback from the conference at the beginning of November, the largest we have ever held. We have reflected on all your thoughts and are looking forward to another successful gathering in 2026.

As we move into the coming year, we have plans to help even more people start the journey of healing from boarding school. There is still much to do, but with your continued support, we are hopeful.

We could not do this work without you. Your generosity and encouragement have enabled us to remain independent, compassionate, and focused on the needs of those we serve.

We encourage you to stay in touch, follow our updates, and share our work with others who may benefit from or support our mission. Together, we can continue to create awareness, foster compassion, and help many more people.

With warmest wishes for a peaceful festive season, and a hopeful New Year,

The Boarding School Concern Team
